

In This Together: A Monthly Survivor Social Space

YWCA Metropolitan Chicago will be hosting a monthly social space for adult survivors of sexual violence.

This group will be a safe, supportive space where you can get together, make art, listen to music, talk, laugh, and create community.

Participants will have the opportunity to:

- Create community and connection with other survivors
- Engage in arts and crafts activities to promote self-care
- Reduce feelings of isolation by engaging in a monthly social activity

These socials are open to adult survivors of both childhood and adult sexual abuse of any gender and sexual orientation.

If you are interested in attending, contact: Alex Champagne at 312.229.7251
