The Power of Play

One of the best ways to fuel learning is by tapping into a child's natural urge to play.

Play allows children to develop:
physically, cognitively, emotionally as well as their creativity, imagination, & dexterity

The Importance of play has been:
called a central component in developmentally appropriate practice; declared a fundamental right of every child; and prescribed at well-visits in early childhood.

Join us for an interactive evening as we re-discover The POWER OF PLAY!
